AFGRI Learnership 2026/2027 For Students

Description

AFGRI Farmer Development (AFD) invites applications for the 2025 Learnership Programme. This initiative is designed to provide comprehensive training in Farming with Crops and Animals, fostering practical skills and knowledge essential for the agricultural sector. The programme takes place at the Vastfontein Farm in Pretoria North and aims to support the development of historically disadvantaged individuals, although it is open to all qualified applicants.

The AFGRI Learnership Programme spans twelve months and involves both on-the-job and off-the-job training. Participants will engage in diverse tasks and responsibilities aligned with the objectives of the programme, gaining all-round work experience at the Vastfontein Training Farm. The learnership aims to equip learners with the skills needed to contribute effectively to agricultural projects and enhance their future employability.

Responsibilities

Participants will:

- Engage in hands-on farming activities with crops and animals.
- Collaborate with a cross-functional team to achieve program goals.
- Contribute to project work and support team initiatives on the farm.

Qualifications

Candidates should:

- Be South African citizens.
- Hold a Grade 12 certificate or equivalent qualification.
- Be unemployed at the time of application.
- Note: Preference will be given to women and individuals with disabilities.

Job Benefits

The programme offers:

- A structured twelve-month contract with AFGRI Farmer Development.
- Extensive practical training and experience in a real-world farming environment.
- Opportunities to develop skills essential for the agricultural industry.

How To Apply?

Interested individuals are encouraged to apply by submitting their applications to AFGRI Farmer Development. Applicants should ensure that their applications reflect their qualifications and suitability for the programme. The programme is located at Vastfontein Farm in Pretoria North, Gauteng Province, where successful candidates will be based for the duration of the learnership. AFGRI is committed to diversity and inclusion and encourages applications from all eligible individuals.
