Plennegy Internship 2026/2027 Graduate Programme

Description

Plennegy (Pty) Ltd, established in 1955, operates as a trading and holding entity with primary focus areas in agriculture and property investments. We are pleased to announce the availability of graduate positions at our Kempton Park and Cape Town offices. This opportunity is designed for recent graduates eager to embark on a professional journey and contribute to our innovative team.

The Graduate Internship Programme at Plennegy aims to implement the Group Data strategy by enhancing and maintaining data integrity. Participants will be engaged in critical tasks that ensure data alignment with business objectives, improvement of data quality, and bolstering of business confidence in data integrity. This initiative supports the overall governance of data and its strategic utilization within the company.

Responsibilities

Interns will be responsible for creating and updating master data records in accordance with Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and company standards. This includes the digital and ERP filing of source documents. Additional duties involve the retirement of obsolete data records, management of the Query Management System to meet service level agreements, and effective communication with business users and staff. Interns will also assist in data sourcing, collection, capture, and scrubbing for various projects sanctioned by Business Improvement or Master Data teams.

Qualifications

Applicants should possess any form of tertiary education, such as a Diploma or Degree, with a Bachelor's Degree being preferable.

Job Benefits

The internship offers a practical learning environment where participants can hone their communication and computer skills, particularly in roles related to data management. The programme provides valuable on-the-job training, equipping interns with the competencies required to excel in data-centric positions.

How To Apply?

Interested candidates should follow Plennegy's application procedures as detailed on our official careers page. This programme is an ideal platform for graduates seeking to initiate their careers in a dynamic and supportive setting, offering extensive professional development and growth opportunities.
