Tiger Brands Internships 2024/2025 Future Leaders Graduate Programme For Research and Development

Description

The Tiger Brands Future Leaders Development Programme (FLDP) is a comprehensive 24-month initiative designed to identify and nurture graduates who exhibit the potential to ascend to leadership roles within the organization. This programme specifically targets individuals with a bachelor's degree or BTech qualification, aiming to integrate them into diverse disciplines within the company. Participants will engage in a structured learning experience intended to equip them for significant roles within Tiger Brands.

The FLDP is committed to fostering the growth of graduates who aspire to build a career in the fast-moving consumer goods (FMCG) sector. Candidates are expected to possess a commendable academic record from a recognized institution, having recently completed their third or fourth year of tertiary education. The programme seeks individuals with demonstrated potential for outstanding performance and innovation throughout their academic journey.

Responsibilities

Participants in the Future Leaders Development Programme will be expected to contribute actively to their respective disciplines within Tiger Brands. Successful candidates must exhibit a strong desire for career growth in the FMCG industry and will be required to engage in various projects and tasks that prepare them for future leadership roles.
